Canal People are Now Trying to Unload Their Big Project

Onto the U. S. Government.

Discussion of the Nicaraguan Bill Taken Up in the House of Representatives Again Today. Washington News.

Washington, Jan. 8.—Mr. Lampre, secretary of the Panama Canal Co., called on President Roosevelt this morning but the result of the visit was not made public. Admiral Walker said today that no meeting of the canal commission had been held to consider the offer of the Panama people to sell for forty million dollars and he did not know when one would be held.

FIRST SPEAKER

Declared He Would Vote For the Nicaraguan Bill.

Washington, Jan. 8.—The House at once went into session as committee of the whole today to further consider the Nicaraguan canal proposition. Mr. Grosvenor, of Ohio, took the chair and Mr. Schackelford, Democrat, of Missouri, was the first speaker. Mr. Schackelford said he would vote for the bill if nothing better was offered.

APPROPRIATION

For the U. S. Army Will be Reduced This Year.

Washington, Jan. 8.—The House committee on military affairs today by an 11-5 vote recommended an appropriation bill for the army, which would reduce the army by 10,000 men this year and 15,000 more next year.

PROPOSITION

Of the Panama Company Claimed to be a Plan For Delay.

Washington, Jan. 8.—The debate on the Nicaraguan canal bill in the house was opened in lively fashion by Mr. Hepburn, chairman of the interstate and foreign commerce committee, which reported the bill. For two hours he held the floor, replying to a volley of questions concerning the recent offer of the Panama Canal company to sell its property and franchises to the United States for $40,000,000. The interest in the debate centered almost entirely in this new phase of the subject. Mr. Hepburn maintained that the alleged new offer of the Panama company was part of the plan of delay. He pointed out what he claimed was the suspicious circumstance that the Panama held out for $100,000,000 until it was decided before the holiday recess to consider the Nicaraguan bill, and then suddenly dropped the price to $40,000,000. Mr. Morris (Maine) gave notice that at the proper time he would offer an amendment to authorize the president, if he could procure the property and rights of the Panama company for $40,000,000, if concessions could be procured from Colombia and if the Walker commission so recommended, to purchase and proceed to complete the Panama canal. The other speakers were Messrs. Davis (Fla.), Richardson (Ala.), Mann (Ill.) and Adams (Pa.).

Mr. Hepburn, in his remarks, said he had no doubt about the right of the United States to defend the canal and to do it in any way that seems wise to the United States. If that involves the creation of fortifications at the terminal of the canal or of stockades at the sites of the important works, he had no doubt about the authority of the United States to do it, and that it would exercise that authority. Representative Cooper (Wis.), chairman of the house committee on insular affairs, introduced a bill giving a complete form of insular government for the Philippines, to begin Jan. 1, 1904, with a governor appointed by the president, a legislature of two houses, and with two Philippine commissioners to represent the Philippine people at Washington. In other respects the Cooper bill follows that of Senator Lodge.

IN THE SENATE

Washington, Jan. 8.—The first notes of the contest between the Nicaragua and Panama routes for the isthmian canal were heard in the senate when Mr. Morgan offered and secured the ated his purpose to have the committee on interoceanic canals inquire into the relations alleged to exist between the transcontinental railroad companies of the United States and Canada and the Panama Canal company. In explanation of the resolution Mr. Morgan declared that the alleged relations were "a wicked monopoly," which already had cost the people of the Pacific coast millions of dollars. The relations involve the control by the Panama Canal company of the Panama Canal company and the agreement existing between certain railroads of the United States and the Pacific Mail Steamship company.

Over 300 bills and joint resolutions were introduced in the senate, of which the following were the most important: Providing for the erection of a postoffice building in New York, the building to be "substantial and commodious and centrally located," and appropriating $2,500,000 toward this purpose, requiring that contractors carrying the mails of the United States shall be able to read the English language, increasing pension ratings on account of wounds, disease or injuries received while in the line of duty.

Senator Mason introduced several amendments to the proposed Philippine tariff bill. The amendments suggested as a substitute for section 1 of the bill the provisions of the tariff bill enacted by the Philippine commission. It is now provided that Philippine exports of imports from or to the United States shall pay only 50 per cent of the rate on articles coming from or exported to foreign countries. Another provision places American goods and articles manufactured from wood, metals, fish, dried fruits, grains, vegetables and seeds and forage on the free list. Another amendment strikes out the provision in the pending bill requiring the payment of a tonnage tax on vessels coming into the United States from the Philippines.

DIPLOMATS

Tendered a Reception in Washington

By the President and Mrs. Theo. Roosevelt.

Diplomatic Corps was Fully Represented and the Event Proved to be a Very Brilliant Affair.

Washington, Jan. 8.—President and Mrs. Roosevelt gave a reception at the White House in honor of the diplomatic corps. It was the first formal evening levee of the season and the first at which President and Mrs. Roosevelt have been host and hostess. A full representation of the diplomatic corps made the affair notably brilliant. The floral decorations in the east room were handsome and elaborate and included roses, carnations, hydrangeas and lilies of the valley. In the large red, blue and green parlors the floral display was confined to a few growing plants and cut flowers. President and Mrs. Roosevelt received their guests in the blue room.

Royal Wanderers' Return. Peking, Jan. 8.—The re-entrance of the Chinese emperor and empress into Peking was the most remarkable episode in the annals of the dynasty, save the flight of the Chinese court when Peking was bombarded by the allies. The spectacular phases of the return of the court exceeded expectations. The scene was a bewildering barbaric exhibition of oriental tinsel splendor.

TRAGEDY

Of the Walla Walla is Investigated.

An Inquest Held by Coroner at Eureka.

Statement of Ill Fated Steamer's Lookout is Denied by the Officers Who were in Charge of the Vessel.

San Francisco, Jan. 8.—Nothing has been heard of the missing victims of the Walla Walla disaster, and it is feared that they all went down with the steamer. The statement of Lookout Johnson made to the coroner's jury at Eureka, that he saw the lights on the bark and warned the officers on the bridge of the Walla Walla, is denied by them. Other members of the crew of the Walla Walla corroborate Johnson's assertion that the lights on the French bark were visible. The conflicting statement will be investigated by the United States marine authorities.

EARNINGS

Of the Gigantic Steel Corporation.

General Statement of Them is Made Public.

Over Eight-four Millions of Dollars were Earned by the Trust During a Period of Nine Months.

New York, Jan. 8.—In the nine months ending Dec. 31, the net earnings of the United States Steel corporation were $4,779,298. The quarterly meeting of the directors was held here, and besides voting the usual dividend of 1 1/2 per cent on preferred stock and 1 per cent on common stock a general statement of the financial condition of the corporation was made public. The statement was made public. The corporation had in United States Steel corporation bonds and the bonds of subsidiary companies consumed $2,262,292, and depreciation reserve and contingent funds and improvements $9,687,702. The sum of $1,400,000 was paid in interest on bonds for nine months, and $42,005,807 was paid out in dividends. The balance available for surplus or new construction amounted to $1,411,497.

Lock-step Abolished. Leavenworth, Kan., Jan. 8.—Warden Jewett of the Kansas state penitentiary has abolished the lock-step in the marching of convicts. He made the announcement to them in chapel. The wardens has decided to march the prisoners by fours like soldiers. The graded system has been in vogue at the Kansas penitentiary three years.

Tobacco Factory Burned. Richmond, Va., Jan. 8.—The large tobacco factory of Cameron & Cameron was practically destroyed by fire. The flames are supposed to have originated in the drying room. The loss is estimated at $1,000,000 on building and stock. It is fully covered by insurance.

Escaped Murderer Captured. Aberdeen, Miss., Jan. 8.—Will Lanier, under sentence of death for the murder of Little Brothers, and who has twice broken jail, has been recaptured and is again in prison here heavily ironed and closely guarded.

Of the Immigrant Office

At Ellis Island

Will be Dismissed from Service.

Sensational Scandal Unearthed by the President and Mr. Gage.

Disorderly Houses in New York and Vicinity Have Been Recruiting from the Immigrant Station.

Washington, Jan. 8.—President Roosevelt and Secretary Gage have unearthed a startling state of affairs at the immigrant station on Ellis Island. It has been discovered that disorderly houses in New York and other towns have been recruiting from the immigrants and many have been held and deported to whom money for railway travel had been sent by friends in the west. Commissioner Fithie is not held personally responsible for these abuses but will lose his official head for not keeping his assistants straight. The whole immigrant office force will be cleared out.

PACKERS

In the Windy City May be Prosecuted

For Violations of Interstate Commerce Laws.

An Alliance Said to Have Been Formed for the Purpose of Securing Passage of Favorable Legislation.

Chicago, Jan. 8.—Prosecutions against all the big packing house concerns in the west for violations of the provision of the interstate commerce law against receiving preferential rates are contemplated by the interstate commerce commission. This fact developed during an investigation begun by the commission into the handling of packing house products and dressed meats. It also became apparent that the commission and the railway managements of the entire country practically entered into an alliance for the purpose of inducing congress to pass legislation permitting the railroads to pool under certain regulations by the interstate commerce commission, and that it is believed such a law can and will be passed. The third development of the day was the announcement that the commission had requested the attendance of all the leading men in the advancement of the community of interests idea, including J. P. Morgan, J. J. Hill and E. H. Harriman, and that if these men failed to respond to the request harsher measures would be taken to compel their coming.

Vincennes, Ind., Jan. 8.—Mary and Ruth Putnam, unmarried daughters of Ebel Putnam, a prominent farmer living just across the Indiana line in Illinois, were arrested charged with the murder of twin babies born to Mary Putnam Dec. 31. The babies disappeared Christmas day and the authorities searched the premises and found the little bodies buried in a pasteboard box in the orchard. Ruth Putnam is in jail at Lawrenceburg, while her sister Mary is closely guarded at her father's home by officers, being in too delicate condition to be removed to the jail.

COMPLAINT

Filed in U. S. Court at Washington

In the Action of the State of Minnesota

Against the Northern Securities Company—State's Attorney Seeks to Enjoin the Railroad Deal.

Washington, Jan. 8.—Attorney General Wallace B. Douglas of Minnesota filed in the United States supreme court the bill of complaint in the case of the state of Minnesota against the Northern Securities company. The bill points out the direct interest the state has in the proposed consolidation. The state still owns more than 3,000,000 acres of public land valued at more than $15,000,000 and traversed in part by the line of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific railroads. If the merger is effected these roads will cease to build spurs into these lands or compete for their business. The bill, among other things, asks that officials of the companies be required to show cause why they should not be enjoined perpetually from effecting a consolidation of these parallel lines.

Of San Francisco Labor Unions

Now Hold the Reins of Municipal Government.

The New Mayor of the City is Consistent with His Platform and Appoints Laboring Men as Officers.

San Francisco, Jan. 8.—James D. Phelan's term as mayor expired at midnight and his successor, Eugene E. Schmitz, the labor candidate, took possession. He was sworn in this morning and believed his inaugural address. Among the appointments made today is that of Michael Casey, president of the Teamsters' Union, to be commissioner of public works; Harry Whutton, legal advisor of the Sailors' Union, police commissioner; and John Parry of the Builders and Pile Drivers' Union, fire commissioner. They were leaders in the recent water front strike.

GERMANY

Will Deal With the Faction That is Now Opposing Castro

A Former President's Opinion.

He Visits Panama and the Event is Held to Have a Political Significance. The Financial Situation in the Philippines.

Colon, Columbia, Jan. 8.—General Ignacio Andrade, the former president of Venezuela, who arrived here on Jan. 4 from Wilhelmstadt, island of Curacao, has had a long interview with General Carlos Alban, the military commander of this district. General Alban received General Andrade at the railroad station when the latter reached Panama. The visit of General Andrade to the isthmus doubtless has an important political significance. In referring to Germany's claims against Venezuela, General Andrade said that he did not believe Germany would press these claims at present, but that she would prefer to deal with the faction now opposing the president of Venezuela, Cipriano Castro. He says that none of the claims Venezuela is now being called upon to pay originated under his administration of that country. That on the contrary, under his administration, Venezuela had paid to the United States and France a large portion of the claims due those countries. General Andrade explained that the government of Venezuela had been overthrown as the result of bribery and treachery in the Venezuelan army. He also expressed a great liking for the United States and Americans.

Crisis Reached.

City of Mexico, Jan. 8.—The arbitration situation has reached a crisis. The Central and South Americans opposed to the Chileans held frequent meetings to decide on the form of procedure upon which they will introduce the arbitration plan into the conference. If they can not find a form acceptable to the other delegations they will probably withdraw. The Chileans also say that in whatever form the compulsory arbitration plan is reported to the conference they will quit.

Trolley in City of Mexico.

City of Mexico, Jan. 8.—It is reported that $16,000,000 has been subscribed in Paris for building and equipping a new system of electric street railways here and introducing low fares. The French syndicate is believed to have the cooperation of prominent people here.

Philippine Financial Situation.

Manila, Jan. 8.—Numerous meetings of merchants and others have been held recently at which resolutions were passed urging requesting congressional action to meet the financial situation here. Since the ratio was officially changed Jan. 1 for the first quarter of 1902 to be $210 Mexican silver to one American gold dollar, business transactions of any sort have become difficult. The majority of the business houses have raised their prices 5 and 10 per cent, and some houses refuse to accept any but American coin, which is difficult to obtain owing to the vast speculative shipments of coin during the past few months. Some banks refuse to recognize the government mintage and are fixing their own ratio at one American gold dollar to two Mexican silver dollars.

Porto Rico's Request.

PASSENGER TRAINS

Wrecked in the New York Central's Tunnel in New York City.

Rear Coach of a New York, New Haven & Hartford Train Telescoped by a New York Central Engine.

New York, Jan. 8.—A wreck occurred in the tunnel of the New York Central railroad at Sixth street and Park avenue at 8.40 o'clock this morning. Six dead and injured have already been taken from the wrecked trains.

The collision was a rear end one, a New York Central engine crashing into a New York, New Haven & Hartford train while both were going to the grand central depot. The engine telescoped the rear coach, escaping steam adding to the tortures of the injured who were all in the rear coach. The names of dead as far as ascertained up to 10 o'clock are as follows: A. C. Walton, New Rochelle, N. Y.; H. G. Diamond, 108 Manhattan avenue, New Rochelle, A. E. Miller, 160 Broadway, N. Y.; Oscar W. Meynowitch, an old man, thought to be an optician of Twenty-third street, New York, and an unknown man.

Wreck a Safe and Building and Wound a Nervy Policeman.

Fairport, O., Jan. 8.—Four burglars blew the safe in Heitman's grocery, wrecked the building and put the lives of the family of Mrs. Hertin, who lived up stairs, in jeopardy. Policeman Routio, attracted by the explosion, on the defensive and filled a telegraph pole, behind which he sought shelter, with bullets. One well directed shot, wounded Routio in the foot. The burglars then started toward Painesville. They were also tackled by Gus Merzborn, but he fled when the

MEN

Entombed in Michigan Mine

By a Cave-in.

Over a Dozen Lives are in Jeopardy

And There is But Little Hope That Any of Them Can be Rescued.

Victims Were at the Bottom of a Shaft When Thousands of Tons of Ore Came Down With-out Warning.

Negaunee, Mich., Jan. 5.—The most distressing accident occurring in this country for years took place at the Negaunee mine, by which from 12 to 17 miners are thought to have lost their lives. The accident was the result of a cave-in at the bottom of the shaft, and had it occurred half an hour sooner about 150 men would have been killed. The names of the dead, so far as known, are: William Williams, John Sullivan, John Pascoe, John Pearce and Jacob Hamalia. Thus far but two bodies have been taken out, Hamalia's and an Italian, Dominio Baso, alive.

Baso's story is as follows: "We were sitting around a pump at the bottom of the shaft when, without any warning, thousands of tons of ore came down. I remembered no more until I heard the sound of picks and shovels in the hands of rescuers and their shouts. I was in total darkness and my feelings can not be described. What seemed ages to me were but minutes. When rescuers found me I was 75 feet from the place where I was sitting, and found myself in a drift. How I got there is a mystery, but it can only be accounted for by the concussion of the wind."

Hundreds of men are at the mine eager to help in the work of rescue, but it is thought the other bodies can not be found within 24 hours.

The Negaunee mine is one of the most unlucky properties in the Lake Superior district. Much trouble has resulted in sinking and drifting from surplus water and quicksands. It was at this mine that $1,000,000 was recently expended to sink a shaft to the ledge.

From the condition of the shaft it would seem that the men are surrounded by a large mass of dirt and broken timber. The lower portion of the shaft is so badly twisted that the cage will not operate within 30 feet of where the men are entombed. A rescuing party of about 150 men, the most skillful miners at the mine, was organized immediately. A dull roar and a sound of crashing timber nearly 500 feet under ground gave to the men on the surface the first indication of the disaster. A rush was made for the shaft, and when all had quieted down volunteers under the lead of Captain James Piper descended in the cage in an attempt at rescue. It was found, however, that the shaft was badly damaged, it being impossible to get within 30 feet of the level in which the men were buried. Cries for help were heard at lowest point reached, and the removal of the timbers which blocked the way showed a man who, shortly before the cave-in had occurred, had started for the surface. He was uninjured, but was drenched to the skin and suffering greatly with the cold. The man could throw no light on the fate of his associates, the majority of whom are thought to be Italians and Finlanders.

Prominent Rabbi.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 5.—Dr. Adolph Moses, rabbi of Adas Israel temple in this city since 1881, is dead of paralysis of the heart. Dr. Moses came of a family of rabbis. He was a native of Santomahel, in Posen, the Polish province of Prussia, and was born in May, 1840. His father was Rabbi J. L. Moses. In 1870 he came to this country and took charge of a synagogue in Montgomery, Ala., and later one at Alleged Lottery Swindle.

Buffalo, Jan. 5.—What is regarded by the federal authorities as a well developed lottery swindle was brought to light here. Andrew Gifford, a barber, was arrested, charged with having used the mails for fraudulent purposes. It is stated by the federal officers that no drawings were held by the "lottery," purchasers of tickets never having had a chance to win. Postoffice Inspector Cochran found piles of unused lottery tickets, circulars and a large number of envelopes bearing postmarks of places in New York, Canada, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana.

Valuable Bull.

Chicago, Jan. 5.—The Hereford bull, "Perfection 3291," was sold for $9,000 at the Union Stock Yards, Chicago. This is the highest price ever paid in America for a Hereford, and the highest price in recent years for a bull or cow of any breed. Perfection was the champion Hereford bull of the international live stock exhibition in December. He headed the list of 56 animals sold by Thomas Clark of Behr, Ill., and was purchased by Gilbert H. Horie, whose farms are at Thornton, Ill., and Taylor, Tex.

Dynamite Exploded.

Philadelphia, Jan. 5.—An explosion of dynamite occurred in a contract job of tracks in West Philadelphia. John Mulvan, a watchman employed by the Pennsylvania railroad, was killed by the explosion, and a large number of persons living in the vicinity were injured. Flying glass from the explosion cut down the windows of their houses.

ANOTHER NATIONAL PARK.

Chance For Settling Great Pine Forest in Minnesota.

To the northwestern states in general and to Minnesota in particular falls the work of protecting the headwaters of the great lakes and rivers of North America and of preserving the big forest localities which another hundred years of rapid settlement seem to have almost entirely destroyed. No half way measures are adequate to the success of plans like these. They all call for acquaintance, interest and support of the whole people.

Katherine Louise Smith tells in January Outing of the need and the opportunity for a new national park in north central Minnesota. There stands today a piece of ancient forested America—in fact, the only remaining pine forest between the Rocky mountains and the Atlantic ocean—which it is possible still to save from destruction. Within the limits of the Chippewa Indian reservation along the Leech, Cass and Winnebago lakes there are, as if ready and waiting for this purpose, 611,592 acres of land and 218,270 acres of water surface. It is the land of the original Dakotas and Ojibwas, the cradle of northwestern story and tradition.

The possibility of another great national park created from our vanishing public domain is in itself a matter of widespread general interest. In this case there is added the special welfare of sport and forestry throughout a region of vast extent. It is the chance for Minnesota also to secure for herself and the people of the upper Mississippi valley the only great park in the interior of the country.

DEPEW ON WEDDED LIFE.

Witty Senator Says There Is No Trust Like It.

Senator Depew and bride, accompanied by a French maid, arrived at noon in Paris the other day from Beauclieu. The sleeping car company paid them the unusual compliment of giving them a special car free. On their arrival Mr. Depew, who looked radiant and carried exuberantly an enormous box of the bride's jewels, said to the New York Journal correspondent:

"Men may talk of steel, railroad and other trusts, but none of them can give dividends like that a man gets by marrying a young and pretty wife on the sunny Riviera. We did not go cavorting around creation bonemooing, but one day we drove to Monte Carlo, another to Cap Martin and another to Nice. My marriage has been unique, first by the number and variety of ceremonies; second, by the number and variety of bodyguards."

"As we had three ceremonies, so we had three bodyguards. The pen and the sword protected us, for we had a bodyguard of journalists and a bodyguard of bluecoats." Likewise, by the by, we had a bodyguard of picturesque fishermen weighing 200 each.

"At Cannes we were serenaded or 'subverted,' as it is called out west, with a tremendous racket of tin pans and horns."

"It did not interfere with their matrimonial arrangements at home, I would recommend United States senators and others to get married on the Riviera."

The first warehouse was erected in 1626.

SHAW'S EARLY DAYS.

Amusing Incidents in the Latest Cabinet Member's Career.

MISTAKEN FOR A MAP PEDDLER.

Future Secretary of the Treasury Surprises a Hotel Keeper—Pie Story Gives First Hint of His Acceptance. How an Overconfident Lawyer Was Defeated by the Governor.

The advancement of Governor Shaw to the position of secretary of the treasury has brought out a new crop of stories concerning the man who in less than five years has grown from a comparatively obscure country banker to the chief figure in the financial affairs of the country, says a special from Des Moines, Ia., to the Chicago Tribune. In the campaign of 1896, when Governor Shaw made the start which has brought him to a position only two points removed from the presidency, he traveled over Iowa making Republican speeches.

Mr. Shaw has a ready faculty of presenting figures in an interesting and convincing manner, and to all who have carried at all times a bundle of maps with him. These maps are the ones which would unfold during his speech and would drive home to the mind the chief points of his argument. He usually traveled alone, carrying the bundle of maps with him.

On one occasion a wreck on the railroad prevented Mr. Shaw from reaching a small town. He was sought in the town and asked for accommodation. At the night, the landlord, seeing an "old man" under his visitor's arm, and having had experience with map peddlers who remained overnight with him and then compelled him to accept a map in payment, gruffly informed the stranger that it must be understood no maps would "go," that he must have the cash down for lodging.

Shaw laughingly informed the landlord that he had enough change in his pocket to pay his bill, and the statement was finally accepted, and he was allowed to register. The landlord's eyes opened wide later in the evening when a citizen of the place happening into the hotel office recognized Shaw and began a conversation which was overheard by the hotel keeper concerning the making of a loan of several thousand dollars from one of the governor's string of banks.

When the real situation finally dawned upon the landlord and he found that the man of whom he had demanded cash was worth not less than a quarter of a million and instead of a map peddler was a political speaker, he made a sincere apology, which was accepted in good part by Shaw.

During the time the public was in suspense over the reported tender of the treasury portfolio to Governor Shaw many of the governor's friends sought to draw from him some word which would give them light on the matter. Particularly were his friends desirous of learning whether or not the governor would accept.

At a dinner where none except close friends of the governor was present and every effort within the bounds of propriety was being made to get him to indicate whether under any circumstances he would accept the portfolio if it should be tendered to him the governor watched the efforts of his friends with apparent amusement and finally told the following story:

Two boys, Bill and Bob, were at the dinner table. Some time before the end of the meal was reached the pie was passed. Bill declined to take any, saying he was not yet ready for dessert. Bob helped himself to the biggest piece on the plate and, turning to Bill, remarked, "Bill, allus take pie when pie is passing."

The governor's friends saw the application of the story to the treasury situation, and all were thoroughly convinced that the governor would not decline the portfolio.

A prominent Des Moines lawyer was once employed to defend a case in a county adjoining that in which Governor Shaw, then a practicing attorney, resided. The Des Moines man enjoyed a reputation in his profession, while Shaw was almost unknown outside of his home county, so that the former when the case was called and he had surveyed the somewhat unpolished appearing figure of the opposing counsel concluded that he had a snap and settled down to the enjoyment of a cigar.

In relating what followed the Des Moines lawyer said that Shaw without doubt realized that he was being held lightly and determined to allow him to rest secure in that belief. Shaw offered few objections during the early part of the trial, and those he made were feeble efforts such as might be expected of an inexperienced attorney. The Des Moines man swept on with his side of the case, taking advantage of the supposed greenness of the opposing counsel and adopting tactics that he would not dare to introduce if confronted by an old practitioner.

When matters had gone far enough for Shaw's purpose, he jumped into the case, showed the fallacies of the Des Moines man's argument, fairly blustered him for his unprofessional conduct, presented the entire case in a masterly manner, and when he had concluded it was plain to every one in the room, the Des Moines man included, that he had won the jury. And this was the case, for a decision in Shaw's favor was rendered by the jury, that body not even leaving the room to make up a verdict.

Will Be Launched Early in February.

OWNER'S PLANS CARRIED OUT.

German Emperor's Latest Pleasure Vessel Will Be the Largest Schooner Yacht Afloat—Plans and Substantial in Its Fittings—Room for a Court Ball on the Deck.

The emperor of Germany's new pleasure yacht, which is being built by the Townsend & Downey Shipbuilding company from designs by Cary Smith and Barney, will be launched early in February, says the New York Evening Post. At least that is the present plan, and as she is almost planned now no delay is probable. When completed, she will be the biggest schooner yacht afloat, her dimensions being 101 feet over all, with a beam of 27 feet. To carry out the emperor's commands her quick throughout will be plain and substantial, yet she will be little short of a floating palace when put into commission.

Cary Smith in giving a description of the yacht said: "To give some idea of her size it will be quite possible, with a few words and carrying on the side, to give a court ball on her deck. All her work, such as deckhouse, skylights and rail, will be of selected teakwood and all cupboards, windows, etc., of bronze. Situated aft is a deckhouse of steel covered with teak. This deckhouse serves as the main companion leading below and in addition will be used in 'dip' weather and will allow a view of what is taking place on deck. The stairs from the deckhouse lead to a vestibule, where are found a chest case, shelves for chronometer, nautical instruments and a locker for hanging clothes. Aft, opening from the vestibule, is the ladies' cabin, fitted with two berths, sofas, a writing desk and a large marble washstand and mirror."

"There is a bathroom on the starboard side opening directly from the ladies' cabin, and opening from the passage leading from the vestibule to the saloon are three stairways and a bathroom for the gentlemen in waiting. Each room has a bureau, marble washstand and sofa. The owner's room is on the starboard side just aft of the saloon. This is a large saloon, some thirteen feet long, and it contains a brass bedstead, several wardrobes, dressing table and writing desk. This room has a large skylight. Indeed it is a feature of this yacht that every room has ventilation not only by daylight through the side in the usual manner, but also by means of skylights."

"For supplementary ventilation washroom ventilators are fitted along the side made of a special pattern, according to sketches furnished by the emperor himself. Just aft of the owner's stateroom is a bathroom, beyond which is a valet's room. It is here the intention to have the staterooms few in number, but of large size. The main saloon extends the whole width of the boat and is eighteen feet long. There is a transom on each side, a piano at the after end and an open fireplace at the forward end. The large extension table in the center will seat twenty-four people."

"Throughout the owner's quarters the woodwork will be of mahogany, painted painted ivory color, touched up with gold, with but a small amount of the trim showing the natural wood. Thus the idea of simplicity is carried out. Forward of the saloon is a large owner's galley and an entirely separate galley for the officers and crew. There are four good rooms for the officers, and forward of the crew's galley and separated from it by a steel bulkhead is a very roomy forecastle, fitted with berths for twenty men. The forepeak has ample room for boat-swain stores and two tanks containing oil, to be used in heavy weather. The emperor is taking great interest in this his latest yacht and has given detailed orders as to how she is to be fitted below. All questions relating to the design, rig and outfit, however, have been left entirely to the designers."

WORLD'S FAIR NOTE.

Comforts in Preparation for the St. Louis Exposition.

St. Louis, Jan. 5.—The Louisiana Purchase exposition at St. Louis in 1903 is to be an establishment where visitors may at moderate rates be refreshed by sleep and the application of water to their persons and clothing. The director of Works Taylor, "It has been considered the proper thing always at expositions to supply plenty of eating and drinking places, but never before has it occurred to exposition managements to go further in the care and restoration of the physical man by furnishing bathing and sleeping facilities. There have been barber shops where for preposterous prices the visitor might get a shave or a shine, but there never has been a place where he might bathe and sleep, except the exposition hospital, and this was not open to him till his system had completely collapsed."

"At the establishment to be featured at the St. Louis fair the visitor will at moderate prices be able to get the following: Shave, shave, shampoo, head rub, bath—Turkish, plain, in sulphur water or in plain water—fresh collars, fresh cuffs, laundered underwear and sleepers."

"We are to sink an artesian well on the grounds, and the water from this, strongly impregnated with hydrogen sulphide, will supply sulphur baths, which physicians declare to have exceptional invigorating and stimulating properties. The visitor will be able to get any kind of bath he likes—hot, cold or tepid—with massage or without. Turkish, Arabian or what not. Apartments, small but nicely equipped, will be supplied, where after his bath he may take a short nap, the attendant awakening him at a specified time. The apartments in most of the exposition grounds will be so quiet that sleep will come readily even to the nervous. A patrol about the building will guard against the least noise or disturbance."

"While the visitor is taking his bath and his nap the laundry will work on his underclothing, washing, rinsing and drying it. Collars and cuffs will be for sale at the building, and the visitor when he wakes can don fresh clean underwear, fresh collar and cuffs, and, shaved and with shoes shined, he can go forth as fresh and vigorous as though he had just emerged from his room at the hotel. There will be separate establishments for the sexes, and women will be furnished the same service by female attendants."

"A tired man is a poor exposition visitor. He lacks the attention which is the first step toward enjoyment. Facilities for rest must be supplied, and they will be supplied at the St. Louis exposition. The visitor is not expected and will not be allowed to take a long sleep. The natural, deep, wholesome sleep which follows a bath will restore him completely in an hour or less."

In the mines and metallurgy department will be displayed the most comprehensive exhibit as well as the largest display of hidden treasures of the earth the world's people have ever seen. The building provided for this department is so large that all space necessary for the mineral exhibit will be available, the remaining space to be given up to mining machinery.

The building is one of the main group of exposition structures, and Dr. David T. Day is chief of the department. He is assisted by Dr. W. S. Ward, who is doing the field work. The work of arranging for exhibits has been systematically and energetically under way for several months, and everywhere the chief and his assistants have found great enthusiasm among men of wealth and brains interested in the mining industry. The mining exhibits from all of the Rocky mountain country are being prepared with much care. Only the choicest specimens will come to the great fair.

In Michigan and Wisconsin special effort is being made to collect mineral exhibits of extraordinary value. In Alaska, the Philippine Islands, Cuba and Porto Rico the United States government has begun the collection of specimens for extensive mineral exhibits.

One of the principal features of the exhibit from the republic of Mexico will be that in the Mines and Metallurgy building. Dr. Day is now located at the world's fair headquarters in St. Louis. The classification of the mines department has been approved by the exposition company and is now ready for distribution.

President Francis and Treasurer Thompson have just returned to St. Louis from Washington and New York and both express themselves as much pleased with the result of their conferences with the president and his cabinet officers, all of whom, as also the congressmen they met, were enthusiastic friends of the world's fair. That President Roosevelt could not attend the ground breaking ceremonies was regretted, but not wholly unexpected.

The United States coast marine life saving service will be assigned a place in the St. Louis world's fair site for the display of that interesting feature of the government's exhibit. Director of Works Taylor says the crew will be placed on the shores of the great basin at the foot of the eminence on which the Art building will stand, just at the head of the grand lagoon.

A building in which family reunions may be held at the St. Louis world's fair is suggested by Mr. Alfred Adams of Taylorville, Ill.

Baby's Coming

McDonald, Ga., July 11, 1900. I advise every suffering woman to take Wine of Cardui. While I was going with my other children I was compelled to stay in bed for days at a time, but this time I have taken Wine of Cardui and Theodor's Black-Draught and have been able to do all my housework without any trouble. I am expecting every day to be confined. My husband thinks Wine of Cardui is the best medicine in the world. It takes a dose of Theodor's Black-Draught every night and gives some to the children. He has not lost a day from work but still tells his friends about your wonderful medicines and I tell my lady friends to use your Wine of Cardui. Mrs. GEORGE L. ELL.

WINE OF CARDUI

There are thousands of women who shrink in terror at the thought of the baby's coming. But childbirth is one of the workings of Nature and it was not intended to imply torture and agony to the heroic mothers of the race. The woman who suffers torture during pregnancy and at childbirth has usually, by some indication, injured the organs which make her a woman. Neglect of menstrual irregularities leads to ovarian pain, falling of the womb and to sterility, and the period of pregnancy is necessarily distressing under these conditions. Wine of Cardui will regulate the menstrual function perfectly and eventually make the generative organs strong and healthy. Pregnancy and childbirth have no terrors for the woman who takes this pure Wine. A strong healthy womb will bring its precious burden to maturity with little or no pain. A healthy woman need not fear childbirth. Wine of Cardui completely cures all these troubles familiarly known as "female diseases" and equips the sensitive generative organs for pregnancy and childbirth. It will save any mother much pain and suffering. All druggists sell $1.00 bottles.

Complaint Comes from Other South Side Churches and the Police Have Been Rendering Their Assistance.

The good resulting from this can easily be observed.

The quarterly meeting of North-western Ohio Electric Medical Association convened yesterday morning at Dr. D. K. Jones' office in Kenton.

After the routine business the association adjourned until after dinner, when they reconvened at the St. Nicholas hotel to hear the reading of essays on various subjects of interest to the physicians. Dr. R. V. Diekey, of south Main street, was the first speaker. He discussed the treatment of cramp.

Ten bars of good soap for twenty-five cents at Crossley Brothers, 715 south Main street.

C. M. Michael, of south Jackson street, had an attack of dangerous illness yesterday which for awhile baffled a physician's skill but he is somewhat convalescent today.

Mrs. William McCoy, of south Elizabeth street, is entertaining Mesdames Charles Bailey, Charles Gessellchen, and Irwin Freeman, of Spencerville.

W. E. Dearbaugh and family visiting at L. E. Kraft's of east Kirby street, left this morning for their home at Jackson Center.

Mesdames George Monroe and Julia Bear, of Spencerville, enroute to Bellefontaine called upon Mrs. J. S. Smith, of Broadway yesterday afternoon.

Dr. J. E. Mell, the south Main street pharmacist, is remodeling the interior of his store. He will have a private office on the second floor.

J. F. Schwartz, employed for some time at Wood & Vories, will leave Friday for Washington D. C. where he will engage in the grocery business for himself.

H. B. Maddox, of east Kirby street, transacted business at Benton Ridge yesterday.

Mrs. James Lewis, of south Main street, has returned from an extended visit at Sandusky, her former home.

Mrs. G. T. Cross, of south Main street, has for her guest, Miss Elizabeth Hickernell, of Spencerville.

Dennis Smith, employed upon the revenue cutter Fessenden, plink upon the great lakes, is a visitor of his brother, F. C. Smith. Dennis was with Dewey in the famous battle of Manila.

Mr. and Mrs. Garling, of St. Mary's, are enjoying the sociability accorded by G. T. Cross and wife, of south Main street.

Harry Myers employed in this locality the past few months, has returned to his home at Fort Wayne, Indiana.

About six o'clock last night the south side fire department was called to the residence of Mrs. E. Dougherty of Greenlawn avenue. A bare at the rear of her house was discovered on fire. An effort was made to contain the fire at the water plug nearby but to no advantage as it was not in working order. It is thought the recent cold weather caused it to burst. The department hurried to the street to make connections but did not have sufficient hose. The fire was made in west Fifth street by laying many sections of hose. The department was throwing water as promptly as possible, but the flames had gained too heavily that the house was completely consumed. A horse in the barn was gotten out with difficulty none too soon. Great showers of sparks and small particles of flaming debris floated thick in the air, a fearful conflagration being avoided only by persons remaining upon the roofs of the surrounding houses to carefully watch and prevent their falling by the burning. A number of persons receiving slight burns by the sparks falling upon them. Several persons had their clothes considerably burned before discovery was made. It is thought the fire originated from the recklessness of some boys who were smoking in the barn. It is presumed they threw a lighted match or a cigarette in the straw, thus starting the fire, entailing a considerable loss.

Governor Shaver a Great Pie Eater.

The New England pie belt will have a substantial representative in the governor, says the New York World.

Governor Leslie M. Shaw of Iowa, the new secretary of the treasury, is a mighty pie consumer. With none of the prejudices against the product which food reformers have tried to inculcate, he likes his pie with every meal. Occasionally he will suppress his desire so far as to eat a pieless breakfast. No French dishes and no liquors or wines for Governor Shaw; just plain American food, plainly cooked, with plain water and plain coffee in the line of beverages.

"I am just a plain man," says the governor.

WANDERERS' RETURN.

Chinese Court Finally Installed in the Forbidden City.

Its chief significance was the complete effacement of the traditional dedication of Chinese royalty. Foreigners were given greater facilities of witnessing the gay ceremonial than would have been afforded them at most European courts. The scene at the chief gate, when the emperor and empress entered the temple to offer thanks for their safe journey, was nothing less than revolutionary when viewed in the light of all Chinese customs. The horse shoe was, forming the ancient gate, was crowded with Europeans, diplomats, army officers, missionaries, ladies, photographers and correspondents. Before the foreigners the emperor and empress bowed repeatedly. The expression of the dowager empress was one of humility.

Costume of Diamonds.

London, Jan. 8.—The victim of the recent jewel robbery, the Marquis of Anglesey, is running his own pantomime of "Aladdin" in his private theater at Anglesey castle. The supporting company is mainly professional, but the marquis, as "Pekoe, the Vizier's Son," takes a prominent role, and in the great scene of the cave jewels dances a butterfly dance, glittering head to foot with diamonds.

New Trial for Captain King.

New Orleans, Jan. 8.—Captain Cyril W. King, the United States volunteer army officer and assistant quartermaster under sentence at Mobile for accepting bribes in connection with the erection of barracks at Fort Morgan, near Mobile, was granted a new trial by the United States circuit court of appeals, sitting at New Orleans.

Gorman for Senator.

Annapolis, Md., Jan. 8.—The Maryland general assembly has re-assembled. But little business will be transacted pending the election of United States senator. The Democrats will hold their caucus for this tonight. There appears to be no doubt that ex-Senator Arthur P. Gorman will be the only nominee.

A BOARD OF CONTROL.

The Lima Board of Trade should see no time, now that the legislature of Ohio is in session, in taking steps to have a Board of Control created for this city to look after her financial interests. Unless some measure of that sort is adopted the city will soon be in a condition of absolute bankruptcy. The interest of property owners, as well as the future welfare of the city, demand that a board be created which shall control the expenditure of city funds, and prevent the wicked, shameless waste of the people's money which has plunged us in an ocean of debt, created the highest tax rate ever known, on the highest real estate valuation the city has ever had, and still left the city's fund overdrawn over one hundred thousand dollars.

There should be in this city a Board of Control composed of three or five good men who would be paid sufficient salary to justify them in devoting their time and energies to the city's business. They should be men of character who would not be susceptible to the wiles of the contractor, and who would apply the same care to the city's business that is applied to private transactions. The taxpayers of the city would gain thousands of dollars each year by employing a board of careful business men at good salaries to take charge of her financial affairs.

Quick action should be had, in order that the new board may get to work before another season of extravagant expenditure of public money commences.

Stuff is That of Maire Bros.,

That was Sold

To the Big New York Syndicate.

Still Have a Nice Little Parcel Left Out in Jackson Township.

The Derrick's Correspondent Picks Up a Few Notes in Allen County and Treats of Contingent Territory.

Speaking of the sale of Maire Bros. of this city, to the New York syndicate, the Derrick says:

The 62 producing oil wells have a daily net production of about 250 barrels part of which is, of course, comparatively new but last month's runs were between six and seven thousand barrels and production was cut considerably by the extreme cold weather which prevailed for nearly two weeks. The price paid for the property, given at $125,000 which would make the production figure from $50 to $100 per barrel a pretty good price for South Lima stuff.

The sellers, Maire Bros., are to be congratulated on making a handsome profit on their investments which have all proved highly successful in this field the last four years. Their last sale shortly before the last of the year just closed also netted them a tidy sum, bringing $29,000 for 400 acres of leases in both township east of the city, on which were 11 wells with 10 barrels daily production. The purchaser in that transaction being C. M. Gilbert agent of Philadelphia the present sale with the preceding one by Maire Bros. with holdings in but a couple of blocks of land in Jackson township where they are interested in 45 wells. They are among the most aggressive developers of territory in Ohio and it is not likely that they will remain long without becoming actively engaged in building up a new piece of producing property somewhere in the Western field.

The Federal Oil Company and Harrington have a fine well on the Woodledge lease in section 12, Marion township. Its first day's yield being 120 barrels. It is the ninth well on the farm.

In section 26, Amanda township, U. S. Smith & Co's test on the I. Bower farm is rather light, starting at only 8 barrels.

Johnson, Well & Co's No. 3, M. Bonifas, in section 14, Spencer, is good for 20 barrels.

In the Van Wert county field the Cuba Petroleum Company's No. 3, M. Morrison section 12, starts at 25 barrels.

On the Ohio side of the state line pool the Home Oil Company's test on the J. Becker farm in section 32, Black Creek township, Mercer county, made 90 barrels the first day is was pumped. In Cass township Hancock county on a little garden patch of land in section 33, G. M. Reynolds has drilled in a big well around which there are several ditches. It started off big when drilled in flowing at a 150-barrel gush and showing up large when shot. One well already in within 60 feet of it is reported as good as dry. The place has been dubbed 'Pock's' Corners and it seems to be aptly named.

On the Van Powell farm in section 7, Eagle township, the Cuba (N. Y.) National Bank got a 30 barrel well in its No. 5.

The best well reported for some time in the time in Wood county is Klausner & Co's No. 2, I. W. Powell, in section 1, Liberty township. It began producing at a 200-barrel gush without being shot.

In Troy township stuff a brace of tests have been drilled in. Maustel Bros. got a 10 barrel well in theirs on the 7 Burrough farm in section 2 while in section 11 on the Fork farm Sand-wash & Co's was a duster.

Fowler Bros. & Co's second well on the Wam farm in section 2, Webster township was dry and pulled out. In Oregon township, Lucas county C. A. & H. W. Leeper's No. 1, Brandenburg, section 6, starts at 12 barrels, while Forsett, Smith & Co's No. 2 S. B. Tobias, section 20, made 30 barrels the first day.

COURT

Decides an Important Case.

Point Raised

Is of Interest to Heavy Shippers.

The Action was Brought at Troy Against the C. H. & D.

To Compel Defendants to Receive for Plaintiff Goods Shipped to Them Over the Baltimore & Ohio.

Judge Walter D. Jones, of the Miami county common pleas court, of Ohio, recently rendered a decision which disposes of a very vexatious question in shipping circles. The action was brought by the Troy Wagon Works company, of Troy, O., to compel the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton to receive from the Big Four such loaded cars as arrived at Troy, assigned to plaintiff over the Big Four road, and to switch the same upon the defendant's track, adjoining plaintiff's factory; and also to receive cars loaded on the same track by the plaintiff company crosses, connects or intersects that road—both of which the Troy Wagon Works company averred the defendant had refused to do. It appears that the roads of the defendant company and of the Big Four both enter Troy and are connected by a "Y" but the Big Four tracks do not adjoin plaintiff's factory and it is only by means of the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton track that the plaintiff company can have cars arriving or departing over the Big Four brought to its factory proper, to discharge or receive of freight, the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton having a leading track immediately adjoining plaintiff's factory, upon the tracks so lying by such coal. The defendant railway company mines, stone quarries, manufacturing denied by answer that it was under any obligations, legal or otherwise, to switch cars upon the side-track adjoining plaintiff's factory, which it denominated a "private sidetrack." It admitted that it refused to place cars on said "private sidetrack" or to switch cars from the Big Four tracks to the private yards of the wagon works company. It averred its readiness to place cars intended for the plaintiff company's use at "reasonably convenient" places in its yards and on its sidetracks. It gave as a reason for this refusal the fact that plaintiff had wilfully and intentionally "isolated and refused to comply with the rules of the railroad company in regard to "demurrage"—that is, it refused to pay the charges of the railroad company for the detention of each car over and above a stated interval—48 hours in this instance—amounting in all to $490.

The plaintiff denied liability for a large part of this claim and also claimed that the railroad company was willing to compromise if the plaintiff would promise "to pay car service claims presented by defendant in the future," which the wagon works company declined to do. It was also contended that 48 hours was not a reasonable time in Troy—that defendant interfered with the work of unloading so as to render it physically impossible to do the work within the time stated; and also that the car service charges were computed not from the time the cars were placed at a convenient and suitable place for unloading, but from the actual time of arrival of the cars at Troy.

In granting the injunction asked for, Judge Jones said: "The rights of the parties are to be determined with reference to the provisions of Rev. Stat., Sects. 3540 and 3541, the first of which reads as follows: 'When the track of a company crosses, connects or intersects the track of the same gauge of another company, the company may connect the tracks of the two roads so crossing, connecting or intersecting so as to admit the passage of cars from one road to another with facility, and avoid the transferring of freight from said car. And when the tracks of one company lie contiguous to coal mines, stone quarries, manufacturing establishment, and the plaintiff elevators, warehouses, navigable waters or sidetracks suitable for loading or unloading, it shall be the duty of such company to switch the cars of freight, the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton having a leading track immediately adjoining plaintiff's factory, upon the tracks so lying by such coal. The defendant railway company mines, stone quarries, manufacturing establishments, elevators, warehouses, navigable waters or sidetracks for the purpose of unloading or loading grain or other freight into or from such elevators, warehouses, boats upon said navigable waters or sidetracks, without demurrage for 48 hours."

The judge further said that the defendant made a direct admission of its failure to comply with the above statute and fully sustained the plaintiff's contention that for its failure to pay the demurrage charges the defendant had its remedy in the courts of law to collect these charges. If properly made, by the bringing of a civil action, and had no right therefore to refuse to perform its plain legal duty as a quasi-public corporation.

Blocking the Game.
The C. H. & D. railroad company is preparing to hold the Dayton and Troy traction cars at its crossing at Keowee street. A line of cars has been drawn to both sides of the street crossing, in fact a part of the sidewalks have been blocked while a close watch is being kept to prevent the construction company from taking snap judgment upon the railroad company by hurriedly putting in a crossing.

An injunction suit is threatened for the purpose of delaying the Dayton & Troy cars from entering the city over the people's tracks at this point.—Piqua Call.

Seriously Handicapped.
Speaking of the accident on the C. H. & D. Sunday night Col. J. C. Winans had this to say: "It is almost impossible for us to move the freight now being offered us, and to lose an engine, or have one sent to the shops, is a hardship at this time. The train running south light was to pick up a train at Dayton and at once start on its run to Toledo." It is considered a wonder by railway men that the two trains should escape with so little loss, as was the case in this accident. The railway men also marvel that none were more seriously injured than was engineer Franklin, when six men leap from flying trains into the dark.—Troy Record.

General Notes.
G. C. Cleveland, first assistant to the civil engineer of the L. E. & W. passed through this city yesterday on a special car, west bound.

Night operator Greer, of Bluffton, has been transferred by the L. E. & W. to Castalia, where he assumed the duties as agent yesterday. Greer is the man who shot his friend believing him to be a robber, several weeks ago.

Perry Seeds, the ex-policeman, has taken a position in the C. H. & D. boiler shops.
The C. H. & D. is short handed in the machine shops, expert labor being hard to secure. The new foreman of that department has aided fourteen additional men, seven of whom are machinists and seven helpers, but even this additional force is not sufficient to keep the work up to the scratch. Unfortunate wrecks on the road have played havoc with motive power and the men are working day and night in order to push the disabled engines through the shops for work again.

BISHOP HANDY Columbus, Says

"I take great pleasure in acknowledging the curative effects of Peruna. At the solicitation of a friend I used your remedy and cheerfully recommend your Peruna to all who want a good tonic and a safe cure for catarrh."—JAMES A. HANDY.

Prominent members of the clergy are giving Peruna their unqualified endorsement. These men find Peruna especially adapted to preserve them from catarrh of the vocal organs which has always been the bane of public speakers, and general catarrhal debility incident to the sedentary life of the clergyman. Among the recent utterances of noted clergymen on the curative virtues of Peruna is the above one from Bishop James A. Handy, D. D., of Baltimore.

OTHER NOTABLE CURES.

A Husband Escaped the Pangs of Catarrh of the Lungs.

Most Cases of Incipient Consumption are Catarrh.

Edward Stevens.

Mrs. Edward Stevens of Carthage, N. Y., writes as follows:

"I now take pleasure in notifying you that my husband has entirely recovered from catarrh. He is a well man today, thanks to you and Peruna. He took six bottles of your medicine as directed, and it proved to be just the thing for him. His appetite is good and every thing he eats seems to agree with him. His cough has left him and he is gaining in flesh, and seems to be well every way."

MRS. EDWARD STEVENS.

Any internal remedy that will cure catarrh in one location will cure it in any other location. This is why Peruna has become so justly famous in the cure of catarrhal diseases. It cures catarrh wherever located. Its cures remain. Peruna does not palliate; it cures.

Mrs. Frederick Williams, President of the South Side Ladies' Aid Society of Chicago, Ill., writes the following words of praise for Peruna from 973 Cuyler avenue, Chicago, Ill.:

"My home is never without Peruna, for I have found during the past six years that there is no remedy that will at once alleviate suffering and actually cure, as Peruna does. Four bottles completely cured me of catarrh of the head of several years' standing, and if my husband feels badly, or either of us catch cold, we at once take Peruna, and in a day or two it has thrown the sickness out of the system."—Mrs. Frederick Williams.

Mrs. W. A. Allison, of 759 Sheffield avenue, Chicago, Ill., is the Assistant Matron of the People's Hospital. She has the following to say about Peruna:

"I have had frequent opportunities to observe the wonderful curative effects of Peruna especially on persons suffering with a congested condition of the head, lungs, and stomach, generally called catarrh. It alleviates pain and soreness, increases the appetite and so tones up the entire system that the patient quickly regains strength and health."—Mrs. W. A. Allison.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

$40.00 Coats for $12.50

We made an offer to an eastern manufacturer for all the Long Coats he had on hand. Our offer was accepted and the goods arrived yesterday afternoon. At $12.50 we will sell ladies' long coats that would have brought $20.00 to $40.00 each earlier in the season. They are made of an excellent quality of kersey in tan and castor colors, are 42 to 56 inches in length, lined throughout and guaranteed satin. Sizes 32 to 38.

$15 Raglans for $9.75

There were only 18 of these Box Raglans in the lot—we could sell three times as many if we could get them at the price we secured these. They are same garments that sold at $15 in December. Sizes 32 to 38.

Children's Long Coats.

Tan color only, yoke effect Raglans with velvet cord trimming, sizes suitable for children of 5 years up to misses of 16 years. These coats are well worth $10, but will be placed on sale at $5. There are 34 garments in this lot but they will not last long at $5.

$7 Golf Capes $3.75

This lot is almost too small to talk about as there are only 11 capes, but they are the best bargains we ever saw. Some with hoods, others without, all with bordered edges and made of fancy all wool plaid back cloth. We were told (and we believe it) that they cost more than $3.75 to make.

CHINA WOULD BE FREE

Empire Under Peace Guise Preparing For Great War.

PREDICTION OF CHARLES GAMMON

Superintendent of the American Bible Society Thinks a Gigantic Effort to Crush the Foreigner is Likely to Be Made Within Ten Years, Possibly Within Five.

Charles F. Gammon, superintendent of colporteurs for the American Bible Society in northern China, writes thus to the society concerning the present situation in the Chinese empire:

"Regarding the situation a great deal could be written, with excellent arguments on every point of view. Both the extremes of optimistic and pessimistic opinions are held by people of experience, and even the signs of the times are self-contradictory and misleading, so that the truth is deeply hidden.

"While at Shanghai I was discouraged by what I learned. The Chinese, in official acts of sorrow for the past and promises for the future, but nearly all were subtle, and their interpretation by scholars could readily be used to reflect on the powers and approval of the dark past. Unfortunately, the masses are unable to read imperial edicts, each village being dependent upon a school or two able to interpret each edict as received.

"Then, too, I observed that the Chinese government was openly violating the provisions of the protocol. Thousands of boats of small arms and ammunition were passing weekly up the Yangtze, the arsenals were being enlarged and worked day and night. Carriages of explosives were being received, and the dowager had issued instructions to all officials to recuperate the army and to inform her as to the fighting strength of each division and the time required to concentrate the forces at a given point. There were and are many other unpromising features which weighed heavily upon the minds of those interested.

"On the other hand, the dowager has issued voluntarily several edicts of a decidedly reformatory character, and the attitude of both officials and people is better than ever before known. Much apprehension was felt as to the period of transition in Peking from foreign military control to Chinese government, yet the change was made in perfect order, and Peking is now as quiet and peaceful as any city could be. The soldiers who under General Nieh were fighting us here last year now guard the roads and are as jolly and friendly as possible, while the people generally welcome the foreigner and encourage his work.

"Large bands of Boxers still exist and meet, but they are now known as rebels, robbers, etc., and in fact, they prey upon all alike, while the soldiers who fought with them before now shoot them on sight. The officials meet us with every show of friendliness and are doing their utmost to aid us in settling Chinese claims and extending our work. There never was such perfect freedom between Chinese and foreigners.

"My own views take a medium course. I must believe that the end is not yet and that within ten years and possibly within five strife will again be the order and a war will ensue the like of which the world has never known. For centuries China has been making repeated attempts to expel the foreigner, each time prodding by past experience, each time with more power and success, each time better equipped and better planned. She is now preparing as never before, buying vast quantities of superior weapons and reorganizing her armies on a correct basis. Therefore the next attempt will be gigantic in force and terrible in execution. It will result in a universal upheaval and the final dismemberment of this empire, at a terrible cost.

"To offset this is the enlightenment that has come to many minds, the power of the reform party and the Christian influence that is now so great. These may gradually prevail and stay the power of superstition and ignorance, God grant it. The whole situation is so complex, the arguments on both sides so conclusive, that no man can say what is or is to be."

FAMINE IN THE OZARKS.

Extreme Drought Causes Many to Subsist Upon Wuts and Acorns.

Distribution such as to necessitate prompt and generous relief is said to exist in Ozark county, Mo., a mountainous region near the Arkansas line, says the Kansas City Journal. So complete is the famine there as a result of the long continued drought, it is reported, that some unfortunate families are subsisting upon what the woods furnish, such as acorns and nuts.

There is but little wheat grown in that locality, and the corn crop has always been the chief source of sustenance among the poorer mountaineers. This year the corn perished in the rust, and whole fields failed to yield even a bushel of grain. The cattle and hogs had to be sold in the latter part of the summer because of a lack of feed for wintering them, and the cold weather has found the country stripped of live stock as never before.

A Royal Philanthropist. The queen of Roumania, always full of good works, is said now to be interesting herself in the more liberal distribution of high class theaters throughout her domain. She has had a small but most artistic playhouse constructed on her castle grounds for the benefit of the district round Plesch.

THE HEART

Many Human Wees Traced to Nervousness and Dizzy Spells which Dr. Greene's Nervura Overcomes.

Mrs. Minnie Miller, 5 Guthrie Street, Fort Wayne, Ind., says:

"For many years I had dizzy spells, palpitation of the heart, and numbness of the feet and hands. These attacks came often and each time worse. My life was a burden to me, and I would feel faint.

"I saw Dr. Greene's Nervura and I bought a bottle. I took it as directed and in a few days I felt better. I could sleep soundly and the nervous feeling has almost left me. I can eat with a good appetite and have gained weight.

"My friends say that I am looking so much better, and I know that I am feeling as they say. I look like a new woman. Dr. Greene's Nervura has done it. I praise the Lord and thank this wonderful medicine for giving me relief."

Extreme nervousness and dizzy spells are sure forerunners of physical wreck. Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy cures all these troubles. Begin its use today. Consult Dr. Greene, free by call or letter. His address is 101 Fifth Avenue, New York City.

"Are you looking for work?" "Looking. I should say so. In such troublous times a fellow has to keep his eyes peeled for work or he'll run right into it."

"Some time ago my daughter caught a severe cold. She complained of pains in her chest and had a bad cough. I gave her Chamberlain's Cough Remedy according to directions, and in two days she was well and able to go to school. I have used this remedy in my family for the past seven years and have never known it to fail," says James Prendergast, merchant, Annato Bay, Jamaica, West India Islands. The pains in the chest indicated an approaching attack of pneumonia, which in this instance was undoubtedly warded off by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It counteracts any tendency of a cold toward pneumonia. Sold by Wm. Melville, old post office corner.

MUTUAL RESPONSIBILITY.

Rev. Anna Shaw on the Duties and Rights of Fathers and Mothers.

At the first meeting of the season of the Philadelphia Mothers' club, held on Oct. 14, Rev. Anna H. Shaw addressed a large audience of interested mothers and teachers on the subject of "Mutual Responsibility."

The speaker did not attempt to lay down any hard and fast rules by which the mother or educator might be guided in the training of the child or creating a happy home life.

As both teacher and preacher Miss Shaw has had ample opportunity to study and observe family relationships, and it was from that standpoint that she emphasized the great lack in the home of today—the lack of "due preparation for the grave duties of parenthood and the consequent lack of wise co-operation, of confidence, of sympathy, of mutual responsibility."

The speaker made an eloquent appeal for the rights of the father. "Not alone the mother should be responsible for the mental, moral and physical well being of the child, but also the father, who has too long been considered as the mere breadwinner of the family, the provider of material necessities, robbing him of some of the finest elements for self development, of his right to the joy that comes from an equal share in the training or the upbuilding of the child's character."

"And the child is wrongfully deprived of the friendship, the companionship and the various influences for good which are derived from the true spiritual relationship of father and child."

"It is not," continued the speaker, "the woman alone who creates the home nor is it the man alone, but the combined influences of father, mother and child constitute the real home, for children train and discipline the parents far more than parents train and discipline the children. It is therefore this united effort, each acceding rights to the other, this healthy action and interaction, that will effect the best results for the whole family."

The speaker hopefully declared that the time should soon come when home making or building shall be a part of public school life.

"It is not a lack of love," Miss Shaw concluded, "but a lack of intelligent comprehension of mutual rights and responsibilities, that mars so many homes today. When we shall have a better fatherhood, a better motherhood and the combined influences of father, mother and child, we shall have a happier family life, a more ethical and spiritual national life."

Stark Not Married.

When a distinguished, if not beautiful, foreign pianist came to this country three years ago, his wife was allowed to accompany him on the condition that she keep in the background and not let the fact of her identity be known.

She tried to do this and by keeping to her hotel all day and rarely leaving her room the fact that the player had a wife did not become known. The intention was, of course, to prevent women from losing interest in him because he was married.

He did not make a success and might have been a Mormon so far as the women paid any attention to him. Now an actor is on his way here with the understanding that he also shall keep secret the fact that he is married and that another member of the company is his wife.

This has been called for 'n his contract, and he has been told by his manager that his success here depends in a large degree on absolute secrecy as to the facts of his married life. As he is likely to become a matinee here, the manager believes that it must not be known that he is married.—Philadelphia Press.

English Gowns at the Coronation. Queen Alexandra's published desire that all ladies present at the coronation next year shall wear gowns of British material and workmanship is carrying society women to do a lot of talking and planning. While England can furnish good woolen and plain materials, her manufacturers never have been noted for producing fine materials any more than her dressmakers have been noted for style or design. Every foreigner recognizes sadly that the average English woman is the poorest and most dowdily dressed of any of her sex in Europe or America. French manufacturers and Paris dressmakers have managed to put fine clothes on and impart style to some of the upper classes, and these are the very women who are hit hardest by the queen's command. They are the only ones who will be able to attend the coronation, where dress will be the greatest feature, and they must now trust their appearance to clumsy British hands.

Her Quick Temper. No one trait of Queen Victoria's character has been more frequently dwelt upon than her motherliness, the rare good sense displayed in training her children.

It is told of the princess royal of England that she had a nasty temper when she was a little girl. Quick, hot words came readily to her lips.

Queen Victoria did not punish her little daughter for these outbursts of temper, but one day gave her a little garden for her very own and advised that when anger got the better of her judgment she go to work for a few moments.

The plan acted like a charm, and a short time among the smiling faces of her flower friends brought the little princess, ashamed and repentant, to beg for forgiveness. The habit thus formed was never broken, and flowers always held a high place in the regard of the empress, whose sad death was lately chronicled.

HOPEFUL VIEW

The hopeful view consumptive take of their own cases is strongly in their favor. Each year is showing a larger percentage of cures.

One of the best reasons for good hope is the record of Scott's Emulsion as a medicine for consumptives. So long as the system is strong enough to use medicine of any kind it can use Scott's Emulsion.

The reason for its helpfulness in this disease is because of its long tolerance by the patient; one does not tire of it as quickly as other medicines and that is where the great benefit comes.

A Little Boy's Life Saved.

I have a few words to say regarding Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It saved my little boy's life and I feel that I cannot praise it enough. I bought a bottle of it from A. E. Steer, of Goodwin, S. D., and when I got home with it the poor baby could hardly breathe. I gave the medicine as directed every ten minutes until he "threw up" and then I thought sure he was going to choke to death. We had to pull phlegm out of his mouth in great long strings. I am positive that if I had not got that bottle of cough medicine, my boy would not be on earth today.—Joel Demont, Inwood, Iowa. PALMA TALKS OF CUBA

Republic's President Elect Outlines His Plans.

SAYS IT WILL NEVER BE ANNEXED

"We Have Fought Too Long For Independence Not to Keep It," He Declares—Will Not Demand Immediate Evacuation of American Troops.
Hopes For a Capital Like Washington.

In the great sitting room of the old farmhouse at Central Valley, N. Y., Senor Tomas Estrada Palma, the recently elected president of Cuba, received a New York World reporter the other evening. With old fashioned politeness, with a courtesy suggestive of the dignity of the Spanish hidalgo, the old gentleman welcomed the newspaper man and motioned him to a chair.

"To my mind the most important thing for Cuba at this time is the education of her people," he said. "The foundation of Cuba's future prosperity
will be the education of the children of this generation. I shall advocate the most liberal system of public schools throughout the island. The education of all children must be compulsory.

"Another thing I shall pay great attention to is the sanitary welfare of the island. Yellow fever has injured
the island commercially in the past, and it must be stamped out at any cost. The cities must and shall be kept clean and everything done to make a yellow fever epidemic impossible. I have been much interested in the experiments which have been made regarding the spread of yellow fever and other diseases by mosquitoes, and the matter will receive my attention.

"I shall model many things on the plan of the United States government.
I have lived in this country long enough to know what real progress means and how it is accomplished. I shall have plenty of assistance to that end. There are many men in Cuba, young men especially, who have been educated in this country, and they will be of great use now in making the Cuban republic a model one."

"Huge you thought anything about your cabinet?"
"No, except that it will not be large.
I believe four or five secretaries will be sufficient. Of course, there will be a secretary of state and a secretary of the treasury. Then I should say there would be a secretary of the interior and a secretary of agriculture. I cannot see much use for the others."

"Do you think the time will come when Cuba will become a part of the United States?"
"No. The Cubans have fought too many years for freedom and independence not to hold on to it now that it is coming to them. I know that it will be a great many years before Cuba knocks at the door of the United States for admittance, if ever. We are a Spanish people, and we do not care
to be merged into the United States.
The immigration from Spain will be very large in Cuba in the next few years. Already since the war over 20,000 Spanish immigrants have settled in Cuba, and more are coming all the time. They have faith in our republic."

"Do you think the delay in granting Cuba independence was necessary?"
"Not at all. The Cubans were perfectly able to govern themselves two years ago—as much as they are now, surely. We are a peace loving people. We bear no hatred toward the Spanish people. We are not revengeful.
We are grateful to the Americans for all they have done for us, but we want the independence for which we fought so long."

The New York Herald quotes Senor Palma as saying: "I do not know how soon the last of the American troops will be withdrawn from Cuba.
We are confident of the perfect good faith of the United States and will make no demand for the immediate evacuation of the island."

"Rural guards will be formed to take the place of a standing army and for the purpose of meeting any emergency that may arise. The Cuban people desire to show that they do not need American troops in the island to keep order and peace. They have an appreciation of their own duties, and they will be proud when that day arries that will permit them to stand before the nations of the world free, independent, well governed, prosperous and at peace."

"Some day in the course of time will be left to the future. It is so easy to depress the currency and coinage of a weak nation that I would prefer to have some arrangement made whereby American money might circulate in Cuba as standard. It may be that this can be accomplished. I believe that it will have a good effect upon our trade relations."

"We have outstanding bonds to the amount of $3,000,000 that have been recognized. These bonds begin to bear interest the day our government is established. One of our first duties will be to provide for their payment. Capital must be encouraged and hostile legislation minimized. The railroads of Cuba should be amalgamated into one system, as under the present plan freight rates are unnecessarily high.
"For the present the capital will remain in Havana. It is the sentiment with me that some day a new capital,
like the City of Washington, should be built near the center of the island, but that is in the distant future. More practical problems will be treated by the new government."

Forewarned, Forearmed.

The liability to disease is greatly lessened when the blood is in good condition, and the circulation healthy and vigorous. For then all refuse matter is promptly carried out of the system;
otherwise it would rapidly accumulate —fermentation would take place, the blood become polluted and the constitution so weakened that a simple malady might result seriously.

A healthy, active circulation means good digestion and strong, healthy nerves.

As a blood purifier and tonic S. S. S. has no equal. It is the safest and best remedy for old people and children because it contains no minerals, but is made exclusively of roots and herbs.

No other remedy so thoroughly and effectually cleanses the blood of impurities. At the same time it builds up the weak and debilitated, and renovates the entire system. It cures permanently all manner of blood and skin troubles.

Mr. E. E. Koller, of Urbana, O., writes:
"I had eczema on my hands and face for five years. It would break out in little white pustules, crusts would form and drop off, leaving the skin red and inflamed.
The doctors did me no good. I used all the medicated soaps and salves without benefit. S. S. S. cured me, and my skin is as clear and smooth as any one's."

Mrs. Henry Siegfried, of Cape May, N. J., says that twenty-one bottles of S. S. S.
cured her of Cancer of the breast. Doctors and friends thought her case hopeless.

Richard T. Gardner, Florence, S. C., suffered for years with Boils. Two bottles of S. S. S. put his blood in good condition and the Boils disappeared.

KIPLING'S WAR POEM.

British Nation Rebuked For Its Self Complacency.

FOREIGN INVASION HINTED AT.

"Do Ye Wait For Spattered Shrapnel Ere Ye Learn How a Gun Is Laid?" Asks the Author—Demand Made of the People That They Remain Active and Alert.

Kipling's new poem, "The Islanders," which was printed in full in the London Times the other morning, is copyrighted both in Great Britain and the United States and therefore cannot be published in extenso in either country except by the owners of the copyright. In brief, it is a rebuke to Englishmen for not having a larger, more formidable and more enthusiastic army. The poet declares that every man should be taught to bear arms and hints at the danger of foreign invasion. The poem opens with a rebuke to British self complacency, in the course of which is written:

Fenced by your careful fathers,
Ringed by your leaden seas,
Long did ye wake in quiet
And long ye dwelt in ease

Till ye said of strife, What is it?
Of the sword, It is far from our ken Till ye made a sport of your shrunken hosts

And a toy of your armed men.

The poet draws a picture of Britain before the Boer war and sneers at the fact that able-bodied Englishers remained at home when the first call came, while street boys and colonial men were sent to the front, while the mother country presented them with "com-fits" and "pictures" to help them harry her foes:

And ye vaunted your fathomless power,
And ye flaunted your iron pride,
Ere ye frowned on the younger nations
For the men who could shoot and ride.

Then ye returned to your trinkets,
Then ye contented your souls
With the flannel gown and the white socks
Or the muddled oats at the goats.

Given to strong delusion,
Wholly believing a lie,
Ye saw that the land lay defenceless
And yet let the months go by.

Waiting some easy wonder,
Hoping some saving sign,
Idle, openly idle,
In the lee of the forecast line—

Idle except for your hearstings,
And what is your boasting worth
If ye grudge a year of service
To the lordliest line on earth?

Ancient, effortless, ordered,
Crest on cycle seat,
Life so long untroubled
That ye who inherit forget.

For England was not the work of chance or moments.

It was not made by the mountains;
It was not made by the deep
Men, not gods, devised it;
Men, not gods, must keep.

The poet then warns his countrymen against invasion. "Do ye wait," he cries, "for spattered shrapnel ere ye learn how a gun is laid?" And he asks whether the rabbit will war with England's fowls or "the red deer horn them for hire," and then, when invaders come—

Will ye pray them or preach them or print them
Or bid them back from their shore?
Will your workmen issue a mandate
And bid them strike no more?

Will ye rise and dethrone your rulers
Because ye were idle, both Pride by insolence chastened,
Indolence purged by sloth?

No, he continues, the salvation of England is to be found in her men trained to the use of arms, and he demands of the people that they remain active and alert until "each man born in the island be broke to the matter of war," then fear of foes will have subsided in the growing consciousness of actual might. The race will be regenerated "when men, not children or servants," shall be "tempered and taught to the end—"

Cleansed of servile panic,
Slow to dread or despise,
Humble, because of knowledge,
Mighty by sacrifice.

MADE SHIP WATER TIGHT.

Successful Exhibition of Closing Kronprinz Wilhelm Bulkheads.

An exhibition of the Doerr watertight door system was recently given aboard the Kronprinz Wilhelm at the foot of Gansevoort street, North river, says the New York World. Chief Engineer Emil Prillwitz turned a small wheel just at the wheelhouse. Bolts rang in all parts of the liner, giving a warning of twenty seconds that the collision bulkheads were to be closed.

Then forty doors on four decks below
the waterline began to close automatically from the top downward. They were shut tight in one minute and thirty seconds. On the main, saloon and promenade decks an equal number of doors are arranged to be closed by hand. The bulkheads run crosswise and lengthwise.

The automatic door closing machinery is operated by hydraulic pressure. Of the sixteen water and air tight compartments below water and also above water any four when shut tight would keep the mighty vessel afloat in case her double skin or her cellular bottom should be punctured.
The test was regarded as a great success.

Erin's Restored Speech.

Albert Van Warren of Danville, near Susquehanna, Pa., twenty years ago underwent a severe attack of secondary, hereditary, and congenital stuttering. He became practically speechless. While crossing the Susquehanna river the other night he broke through the ice and narrowly escaped drowning, says the New York World. While being drawn from the water he uttered an exclamation of fright, and his speech is almost completely restored.

MILLION TO FIGHT DISEASE

Edward VII. Will Use Cassel's Gift
For Consumption Sanitarium.

Sir Ernest Cassel has given to King Edward VII. $1,000,000 to be expended under his majesty's direction for the erection of a sanitarium for consump-tives, says a London dispatch to the New York Evening Journal. It is understood that Sir Ernest Cassel was persuaded to this great philanthropic deed by his daughter, Maude, who is the wife of Mr. Wilfred Ashley.

King Edward has always manifested
the deepest sympathy with the crusade against consumption.

For carrying out Sir Ernest Cassel's purpose his majesty has appointed an advisory committee consisting of Sir William Broadbent, Sir Richard Douglass Powell, Sir Francis Laking, Sir Felix Semon, Sir Hermann Weiler and
Dr. C. Theodore Williams, with Dr.
Horton Smith and Dr. John Broadbent
as honorary secretaries.

The sanitarium is intended to accommodate a hundred patients, fifty male and fifty female. Of the total number of beds eighty-eight will be reserved for persons who can pay only a small amount toward the cost of treatment, while twelve will be set apart
for well-to-do sufferers.

Three prizes of $2,500, $1,000 and $500 respectively have been offered for the best essays on and plans for the construction of the sanitarium, and the advisory committee will be guided by the result of this competition in the execution of his majesty's wishes. The competition is open to medical men of all nationalities.

Sir William Henry Broadbent said that it was intended to employ the open air treatment for consumptives,
the success of which, he declared, was now absolutely established. He believes the sanitarium will be within easy distance of London.

Sir Ernest Cassel is one of London's merchant princes, with a town house
in Grosvenor square and a country seat, Dalby Hall, near Felton Now-bury, the fox hunting headquarters in Leicestershire county. He is very wealthy and on the recent marriage of his daughter to Mr. Wilfred Ashley made her a settlement which common report said would assure her an annual income of many thousands of pounds, while ultimately her inheritance will amount to $13,000,000.

Sir Ernest is said to be one of the three cleverest men in the city. He is very popular on the turf and has many horses in training. He has a big place near Newmarket called Moulton Pad-ocks, which he bought from Lord Gerard, paying something like $200,000 for it. King Edward, then Prince of Wales, attended his daughter's wedding, which took place the first week of last year.

CHICAGO A FRENCH CENTER

Parisina Annex Promised For Dr.
Harper's University.

"Chicago will be the future French center of America. We will be closer to Paris than New York, and we will have the Paris atmosphere in chunks."

So spoke Charles Menoutin of the Alliance Francaise, which has succeeded in bringing a French school to Chicago. This school is to be affiliated with the Chicago university and is to be started off with $1,000,000 by M.
Robert Lebaudy of Paris, who conducts the French sugar trust.

"We are highly pleased over the selection of Chicago," said President Harper of the Chicago university to a reporter of the New York World. "The school is just what we want. M. Lebaudy has been deeply impressed with the business acumen of the Americans.
Our commercial expansion set him thinking. The result is that he has decided to establish a school here where young Frenchmen, while pursuing their studies, can absorb some of the energy and ideas of Americans."

M. Emil Ridel, who was sent to make the selection of the site, said Chicago was the most American city. The mission of M. Lazarre Weiller, who has been sent to the United States by the French minister of commerce, is to study the conditions here and determine as nearly as possible the curriculum and line of study to be followed by the French students. M. Weiller also expects that his visit will aid him
in deciding from which classes of society the government should select the students.

Sixty scholarships will be provided by the French government and all expenses of students will be paid. A French library of 10,000 volumes is to be part of the equipment.

Given $1,000 For Kindness.

The will of Frank H. Peaver, which was recently filed in Minneapolis, places the value of the estate at $2-300,000 in personal property and $50-000 in real estate. The testator first provides for the business, $1,500,000
of the life insurance being turned into it, the son and son-in-law being named as executors. One bequest is $1,000 to John I. Brewer of Chicago, "for being kind to me when a boy." The widow is given $300,000 in cash, $400,000 in trust, $300,000 life insurance, the country home and $10,000 annually. The daughters get $200,000 each.

A New Wall Paper.

A new wall covering is being placed upon the market, says the British Decorator. It is an artificial leather and is the invention of a Frenchman. The new paper consists of pieces of refuse skin and hides cut exceedingly small, mixed in a vat filled with an intensely alkaline solution.

Horrible Possibilities.

The Frenchman who claims to have invented a method of seeing by wire will probably be kind enough, says the Washington Post, to explain just what a person will see when the wires become crossed.

Cod Liver Oil
Without Grease

Hagee's Cordial of Cod Liver Oil,
(With Flavoring of Lime and Soda) contains no grease—an unusual idea, but a scientific fact. It cures Coughs, Colds, Grippe, Weak Lungs, Bronchitis, Consumption, Catarrhal conditions, Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Indigestion, Mal-assimilation, Rheumatism, Skin Diseases, Pimples, Blotches, weakened conditions following fevers. Impurities of the Blood—makes more and better flesh—because it is a direct remedy.

There is no grease in it to disorder the stomach—appetizing taste, pleasant odor—
every drop is immediately applied to rebuilding flesh, nerves, blood, muscle. Improvement begins with the first doses; recovery is very rapid.

30 Days Trial Treatment

Offered To Every Afflicted Man and Woman By Ohio's Eminent Physicians.

Dr. Stevens & Co. will offer to the afflicted for the first time in this country the Paris Food Treatment and Medicated Crayons, Nature's cure for every unknown (curable) disease. A fresh lease of life given to weak men and women. No matter how many doctors have tried and failed, nor what your doubts may be, secure a Trial Treatment. It may be the means of bringing health and happiness.

Diseases which have baffled other treatments are now being cured
by this new scientific method. Common sense tells us that a remedy applied directly to the seat of any disease must give best results.

The Paris Food is fed to the blood and nerves through the pores of the skin. In this way it reaches the seat of the disease without passing into the stomach. The action of the food manifests itself by means of an intense, but not unpleasant, warmth; it fills the body with nerve force, warms
the blood, stimulates the circulation,
and will restore the weakened organs
to a normal condition. It is applied at night, and acts during sleep when every muscle is at rest. It is a harmless home treatment and acts like a mild electric current, invigorating and imparting vim and snap to the entire body. The curative effects are felt from the first application.

Our object in making this liberal offer is for the purpose of introducing our special treatment combined with the Paris Food and Medicated Crayons and the perfect confidence we have in its merits to cure the most complicated and obscure diseases.

We want every man and woman who earnestly desires a cure to investigate our combined treatment. We invite in particular all who have treated elsewhere without success; all whose cases have been abandoned by family physicians and so-called experts. It will be explained to you why you have not been cured, and it will be demonstrated to your entire satisfaction that you can be cured, safely, quickly and permanently.

Every afflicted man and woman is invited to call at the Hotel on date named. The Doctor will fully explain this new method and give you any advice or information your case may require, free of charge. If you cannot call, write to our home office

Of Banner Tent Install Officers.

Lima Tent Will Install New Corps of Officers Next Tuesday.

National Union Gives an Entertainment—The Knights of St. John Will Send Delegates to the District Meeting.

This evening the recently elected officers of Mart Armstrong post No.
322, G. A. R., will be installed by Col.
B. M. Moulton, of Toledo, candidate for election to the office of department commander of the state. The officers of the Women's Relief Corps will also be installed and an entertainment will follow the installation ceremonies. The post officers who will be installed are:

Commander, Geo. Hall; senior vice commander, T. A. Maltbie; junior vice commander, James W. Speer;
surgeon, Dr. S. A. Baxter; chaplain, E.
Charity; officer of the day, John Nye;
officer of the guard, J. B. Coon; quartermaster, Thomas H. Jones; quartermaster sergeant, Franklin Light; adjutant, E. F. Davis; sergeant major, Baxter Trevor.

Monday evening Banner tent, No.
356, Knights of the Maccabees, held a public installation and an entertainment in the Donze hall which was crowded with members of the order and their friends. Sir Knight Wolkoyes, of Lafayette, a member of the tent, officiated as installing officer and conducted the impressive ceremonies
in an excellent manner. The installation was followed by an entertainment, in which the following program was rendered:

Vocal trio, Mr. and Mrs. C. W.
Mooney and Mrs. W. D. Hammond.
Recitation, Flora Linderman.
Solo, Lila Hammond.
Reading, Miss Bertha Hutchins.
Song and Dance, Ragtime quartette.
Monologue, J. W. Hines.
Recitation, Carrie Bressler.
Song, Sir Knight Deall, accompanied by Ragtime quartette.

The officers who were installed
were: W. D. Hammond, commander; Del Bressler, lieutenant commander;
J. H. Copp, sergeant; J. W. Hines, chaplain; John Bressler, master at arms; J. W. Stegall, F. M. G.; J. W.
Homan, S. M. G.; W. R. Jones, record
keeper; B. F. Wharton, picket.

Monday evening Ottawa Council No.
125, National Union, held a very entertaining public installation in the Buffalo hall, where the lodge now holds its meetings. The installation was followed by an excellent rendition
of the following program:

1. Piano Solo—Miss Selfert.
2. Opening Address—Gen. Hunt.
3. Recitation—Miss Simpson.
4. Duo—Misses Kiefer, Wm. Mack.
5. Piano Solo—Miss Villchm.
6. Vocal Solo—Miss Higgins.
7. Solo—Miss Franklin.
8. Recitation—Miss Raymond.
9. Piano—Miss Sherman.
10. Address—A. G. Lutz.
11. Piano Solo and Song—Henry Shick, Jr.

Last evening Lima Tent, No. 142, Knights of the Maccabees, held an interesting review at the lodge rooms in Tolon hall and during the session Clarence Adams was initiated into membership in the order.
Lima tent will install officers next Tuesday evening.

Petrolcra tent No. 122 K. O. T. M., will hold its regular review in the Buffalo hall and a full attendance of members is urged. The newly elected officers of this tent will be installed
next Wednesday evening.

J. J. Woodcock, W. J. Schuler, John Barnham and J. J. Welsh will attend the regular meeting of the seventh district commandery Knights of St.
John to be held at Wapakoneta this evening at 8 o'clock.

Monday evening the local camp of the Modern Woodmen of America held an installation of officers that was attended by an excellent representation of the camp's large membership. The installation ceremonies were followed by a good old-time music and milk supper that was hugely enjoyed by the jolly Woodmen. The following officers were installed: R. E. Irwin, Venerable Counsel; J. D. Austin, W. A.; E. B. Maynard, Banker; W. T. Copeland, clerk; Joseph Justus, Escort; Isaac Stant, Manager; Drs. Thomas and R. D.

Kahle, Physicians.

BIGGEST

Engine Built by the Lima Company

Will Soon be Ready for Delivery to the Oregon Short Line at Salt Lake City.

S. H. Reed, whose duties as an employe of the Lima Locomotive and Machine works, take him to all parts of the country where an engine is sent to be tried out, is home from a trip to Bristol, Va., where one of the famous Shay engines has just been delivered and put in shape for service.
Mr. Reed will leave again soon in charge of another engine, the largest yet turned out by the company, and this time he goes to Salt Lake City to turn the big fellow over to the Oregon Short Line. The engine is not quite completed, but the finishing touches will require only a few more days.

BABE

Was Born During
the Night

And the Man

Who is Alleged to be the Father

Was Made a Prisoner and Locked Up at the Police Station.

John Seymour, the Junk Dealer Charged With Stealing Rope in the Oil Field, Bound Over to the Grand Jury.

About 9 o'clock last night Mrs. Lulu Malaban, of east Pearl street, apparent to the police requesting the arrest of Ben Cromer, a well known oil field tool dresser, and charging him with being the father of her daughter's child. Officer Miller arrested Cromer and when taken to the police station
he admitted to chief Mills that he had been boarding at the Malaban home and had been keeping company with the daughter, Pearl Malaban, aged 18 years, and that he was willing to marry her when he received his wages,
the tenth of the present month.
Cromer was locked up, the physician
who had been called to attend the girl stating that she was in a serious condition.

Mrs. Malaban told the police a pathetic story of the girl, stating that in the bitterness of her shame she had taken refuge under a porch and declared she wanted to die there. Last night she was persuaded to go to her room and a physician was called to attend her. During the night the child, a son, was born and the girl's present condition is considered favorable. Cromer, however, is still a prisoner at the police station though he has not been arraigned before the mayor and no affidavit has been filed against him.

Seymour Bound Over.
John Seymour, the junk buyer who was arrested day before yesterday, by officer Bacon and charged with having stolen $75 worth of rope belonging to McClintock and Boogher, was arraigned before the mayor this morning.
He pleaded not guilty, waived the right of a preliminary examination
and was bound over to the grand jury.
In default of bond in the sum of $300
he was sent to the county jail.

MARRIAGE

Of M. A. Mulligan and Miss Killoran, of Ironton.

M. A. Mulligan, the well known contractor and Miss Mary Killoran, of Ironton, Ohio, were united in marriage
this morning at St. Lawrence's church in that city. Rev. J. H. Cotter, the pastor, officiated.

Those in attendance from this city were the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Mulligan, and his brother,
I. T. Mulligan.

Set of Heirs Disin-herited

By the Terms

Of the Will of the Late James Place.

Everything is Left to His Second Wife and Her Children.

Petition Filed to Have the Will Set Aside the Claim Being Made That Undue Influence
was Used.

A petition filed this morning brings the will of the late James Place into legal controversy, the children of the deceased's wife contending that the will, which made no provisions whatever for them, was dictated by the defendants and that he was coerced into signing it. The plaintiffs are Eveline Deitz, John Place, Elmer Gilbert, Anthony Place, Diantha Aughe and James Place all children by a former marriage, and the defendants are the widow, Melissa Place, the guardians of her minor children and Asbury Place and James O. Ohler, executors named in the will.

The claim is made that the deceased at the time the instrument was drawn was incapable of making a will and could not comprehend its terms or the extent of his estate. Furthermore that undue influence was used in accomplishing the object of having him disinherit the children by his former marriage. The court is asked to have the will set aside. Ridenour and Halfhill represent the petitioners.

Marriage Licenses.
Joseph E. Thayer, aged 41, of Lucas county, and Ida Powell, aged 29, of Bath township.

Brought Back Again.
Dennis Collins is the first person to be placed in the care of sheriff Barr since the latter took charge and he is being kept in the insane ward until some disposition is made of him. He was before Judge Miller a short time ago, but dismissed. He is said to have grown worse since then and in all probability will have to be sent to the asylum.

Sheriff Barr's Boarders.
Consigned to the keeping of sheriff
Barr when he took possession Monday
were the following six prisoners: Bessie Call, murder, confined November 5; Charles Williams, burglary, November 13; Julius Brown, horse stealing, November 18; J. W. Corliss, grand larceny, December 2; John Brown, burglary, December 21; James Williamson, burglary, December 24. To these have been added Dennis Collins, insane and John Seymour, stealing junk. With the exception of Collins they will all receive attention when the grand jury meets.

LAST

Sad Rites Over the Remains of George Keil

Performed Amid Beautiful Flowers
and Loyal Friends, Rev. R. J.
Thomson Officiating.

At the home of Mrs. E. Keil, of north Pierce street, the last sad rites were performed yesterday afternoon,
over the remains of her son, George Keil, the popular young man whose sudden demise last Sunday morning

caused much deep regret in this city.
Rev. R. J. Thomson, minister of the Market street Presbyterian church, of which the deceased was a devoted member, conducted the funeral services at the residence. Amid banks of flowers and surrounded by sorrowing friends, as a tribute to the memory of the manly young man, so silent in the endless sleep of death, the eulogies of Dr. Thomson were deeply impressive. In Woodlawn cemetery, the services were conducted by the Knights of Pythias. At the close, the Knights who acted as pall bearers, consigning the remains of their beloved brother and comrade, to earth's last resting place were: Howard Hoover, Benj. Thomas, David Morris, Mari Edmonds, Elmer Hay and Chas.
Bressler.

Those in attendance from out of town were: Miss Callie and Fred Ris-
ser, of Ottawa, Messrs Summers, Morris, Harry Busche, Miller, Allen and Charles Morris, of Columbus Grove;
Mr. and Mrs. Dan Risser, of Vaughns-ville; Misses Lena and Ottellie Risser, of Pandora; Mrs. Hermann and Mrs.
Herr, of Bluffton; Mrs. Chris. and Aurelius Risser, of Pindley; Mr. Dudley Hemley, of Goshen, Ind. and Mrs.
Amelia Risser, of Toledo.

FORMER

Lima Ball Player Signed
With Near York Club.

"Jimmy" Delehanty, Once Manager
Starr's Speedy Third Baseman, Joins Fast Company.

A recent dispatch from New York gave the following concerning "Jimmy" Delehanty, the clever and speedy little player who played third base on the Lima team that was managed by manager Starr a few years ago:

Another player has been added to the New York club's roster. Secretary Knowles announced yesterday that he had signed James Delehanty, of last year's Chicago team. He played third base for the Remnants in a few games and then retired on account of sickness.

New York's new player is a member of the Delehanty family of ball tossers comprising Ed., Jim, Joe and John.
The first named is the famous outfielder of the Philadelphia club. The others have been playing in the Eastern and other minor leagues for several seasons with varying success.

DIRECTORS

And Officers of Metropolitan Bank Elected.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Metropolitan bank was held in the parlors of the bank this morning and the following board of directors was elected: Thomas Duffield, Charles Losse, Levi Hetrick, James O. Ohler, O. B. Selfridge,
Robert Mahaffey and C. H. Cory.

The board of directors reorganized
by the election of the following officers: Robert Mahaffey, president;
Thomas Duffield, vice president;
James O. Ohler, secretary and treasurer. The force in charge of the bank was re-elected—Wm. H. Duffield, cashier; George E. Mahaffey and Michael Purcher, assistants.

John Curtis Makes the Fourteenth to Lose His Life in the Erection of a Mammoth Sky Scraper.

Pittsburg, Pa., Jan. 8.—Just before noon today John Curtis, aged 26 years, recently of Boston, Mass., and employed by Winslow Bros., contractors of Chicago, fell through the elevator shaft in the new Frick building, on Grant avenue, from the sixteenth floor into the basement, a distance of 250 feet. Not a bone in Curtis' body remained unbroken. The remains, unrecognizable as those of a human being, were removed to the morgue.
Curtis was a structural iron worker.
This is the fourteenth death by accident since the work of erecting the mammoth sky scraper began.
